ONLINE PLATFORMS FOR ALL SHAPES AND SIZES

We not only develop compliance training courses. We also deliver them through our powerful online learning platforms, Salt Web and Salt Adaptive. We cater to organisations of all shapes and sizes. Find the right one for you.

Salt Web is our turn-key compliance training solution. Your staff can access their online training course anytime, anywhere. They will receive automated reminders to complete their training within a given timeframe specified by management. In the meantime, you can manage and monitor your organisation's legal compliance activities with just a few clicks.

The system provides comprehensive analytics from individual reports to board-level summaries. Administrators can schedule reports reflecting employee course participation and completion. Use the Policy Builder feature to upload company policies directly onto the system, and electronically track that staff have read, accepted and acknowledged them.

Salt Adaptive is our powerful learning content management system. It works with your learning management system (LMS) to provide individual learners with a personalised training experience.

Compliance training can frustrate learners who train in the same topics from year to year. Salt Adaptive can trim down training times and improve overall learning outcomes by offering learners a rigorous pre-test that identifies knowledge gaps. Learners only train in what they need to know, bypassing content in which they can demonstrate proficiency. This system may be suitable for refresher training. You can require staff to undertake the complete course in the first year, then switch on the adaptive features in subsequent years.

A sophisticated set of analytics and visualisation tools enables you to track participation and completion rates.
